

John D. Christy has a state wide litigation practice located in Perry, Georgia. He represents severely injured individuals and the families of individuals who are injured or have been killed, on the job or through the negligence of others. While the focus of his law practice is handling claims for individuals in the areas of workers' compensation and personal injury, John has successfully represented major employers and insurers, giving him the advantage of understanding how employers and insurers defend claims. John has been involved in numerous cases involving complex litigation issues in both the workers' compensation and personal injury areas of the law. John is a registered mediator and has successfully mediated many complicated workers' compensation claims.

John is admitted to practice before the United States Court of Appeals for the Eleventh Circuit, United States District Court for the Middle District of Georgia, United States District Court for the Northern District of Georgia, the Georgia Supreme Court and the Georgia Court of Appeals. He formerly served as the Chapter 7 Bankruptcy Trustee for the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Southern District of Georgia. John is AV rated by Martindale-Hubbell and has been recognized as a Super Lawyer in 2012, 2014, 2015 and 2016, 2017, 2018 and 2019.

John is the past chairman of the Workers' Compensation Section of the State Bar of Georgia, has served on the Georgia State Board of Workers' Compensation Advisory Council Medical Committee, as Editor of the State Bar of Georgia Workers' Compensation Section Law Letter, and currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Workers' Compensation Claimant's Law Section of the Georgia Trial Lawyers Association. He is a frequent speaker at seminars on employment and workers' compensation legal issues.

John is a native of Atlanta, GA and enjoys reading and spending time with his family.
