Myles P. Hassett has over 30 years' experience as a trial lawyer and mediator. He has served as Judge pro tem for Maricopa County Superior Court and has been awarded Martindale Hubbell's highest peer-reviewed "AV" rating. Mr. Hassett is listed in Southwest Super Lawyers for his professional liability and alternative dispute resolution practice.

Mr. Hassett is originally from Ireland where he graduated with an honors law degree from University College Cork in 1984, and qualified as a Solicitor of the Roll in 1988. He is the first Irish solicitor admitted to practice in both Arizona (1988) and California (1990). Mr. Hassett is recognized for his trial and appellate work in professional liability, personal injury and insurance cases. Mr. Hassett has briefed and argued more than 50 appeals, including multiple precedent-setting cases before the Arizona Supreme Court.

Mr. Hassett frequently writes and presents on insurance, professional liability, and alternative dispute resolution issues. His published work includes the Arizona Tort Law Manual - Insurance Producer Tort Liability (State Bar of Arizona, 2012), Mediation Is The New Trial (Arizona Attorney, Nov. 2017) and Negotiating to Win-Win (Arizona Attorney, Nov. 2019). Mr. Hassett has presented continuing legal education programs on ADR and insurance issues for the State Bar of Arizona, the National Business Institute, and the Professional Liability Underwriting Society, among others.

Mr. Hassett is also the founder of Acordia Dispute Resolution, LLC, and provides services as a neutral in insurance, personal injury, professional liability and commercial litigation matters. To learn more about Mr. Hassett and his "Win-Win" approach to dispute resolution, visit acordia-adr.com.
